BROADWAY THEATER.

The Scillian Players.

Several months ago there appeared in London, after engagements in Vienna and Berlin, a company of dramatic artists from the state of the country which has lately been uppermost in the public mind on account of the calamity which has appalled the world.
These players came from Sicily and the stage of their efforts in their native country was that of the cities which were so completely wiped out by the earthquake. At the head of the band of Scillians was Mimi Aguilera, and her work in the various plays presented simply national and the dramatic reviewers of the world's greatest metropolis and she was hailed unreserv-ingly as the greatest exponent of the realism in dramatic art who had ever been seen on the London stage. The sensational created by these new artists attracted the attention of Charles Frohman and he arranged to bring the company to America, where, under his direction, they appeared in New York and various other cities, duplicating in this country the success they had achieved abroad. So greatly impressed was the public with the extraordinary qualities of Mimi Aguilera that he has just signed a contract for a long term of years with her to appear in English under his direction and bring to the close of the present tour the class of the present tour the gifted artist will sail for London and there, after twelve months' study in English, she will appear under Mr. Frohman's management in the tongue of which she is now almost entirely ignorant.
An opportunity to see this new company of players will be afforded local theaters when Mimi Aguilera and her associates appear at the Broadway Theater this evening in Zaza.
The performances, although given in Italian, are really as easy to follow and as interesting throughout as those given in English, since the facial expression, pantomime and physical visualization of the roles portrayed by Signora Aguilera and the company are marvelous in detail that familiarity with the tongue of their presentation is almost superfluous.

The Great Divide.

"The Great Divide," the most striking dramatic success the American stage has seen for a number of years, will be played at the Broadway Theater on Friday, March 13th. This new play will be received with delight by the public, for it is a drama of years has commanded so much attention as "The Great Divide." For nearly two entire seasons it has attracted crowded houses to the Princess and Daly's theaters and Academy of Music, New York, having been presented in the metropolitan theaters of London, the road tour is under the direction of Henry Miller, whose name is insepar-ably linked with the success of the play. The cast was selected by the author, and the production will be seen in an exact duplicate of the New York original. "The Great Divide" has been pronounced by many critics to be the "long awaited Great American play." No other drama has so well reflected the manhood, the freedom, the beauty and the indomitable spirit characteristic of the people of our great country. The story of the play represents a conflict between the free, untrammeled spirit of the west and the traditions and conventions of the east. It tells the romance of an eastern woman and a western man whose love was strange and whose life together was dramatic.

BREED THEATER.

To those liking good clear complicated the Breed theater offers a fine line this week. Included in the list are "Mrs. Jones Entertains," "The Honey West," "The Bewildered Professor" and "Jack of All Trades." These are extremely funny, while the dramatic pictures, "The Cord of Life" and "The Intruder" are intensely interesting and thrilling, abounding with strong scenes. Mr. Cooper sings "We Love the World With You and Madam Morelle sings "So Soon We Are Forgotten."

The Roderick Theater.
Large audiences attend all performances at the Roderick last night and all went away thoroughly pleased with the performance, the feature picture, "The Little Cousin of the Vain-ity Eight," being most generously appreciated by all. The usual change commenced today and with it an entirely new and better class of pictures will be shown. For a feature picture will be shown "The Cross Roads." It will prove no doubt the best of the kind ever shown. There will be an abundant amount of fun and drama in the remainder of the programme, which will include "If It Don't Concern You Let It Alone, Bill Wants to Wed a Toe Dancer, Too Much Snuff and The Showercase." Mr. O'Neill will sing a southern ballad, in "Dear Old Dixie Land," thus completing one of the best shows we have ever had.

CONTEST OVER WILL.

Woman Claims Estate of Millionaire Supposed to Be Widower.

In Bridgeport interest attaches to the reported contest over the will of Alfred Gilman, deceased. George L.
Gilman, the millionaire tea merchant, whose estate was in litigation for years.

Gilman owned property in Bridgeport and his will is now before the surrogate court in New York city. He is said to have left a second will without revoking the first one. When Gilman lived here it was supposed he was a widower. Now, it is understood, a woman claims the estate.

"Dignity is What We Use To Conceal Our Ignorance" is Elbert Hubbard's definition of the word dignity. It is a great success in life.

Unquestionably Elbert is correct, and every thinking person will agree with him.

This of the people with dignity and count those having it naturally.
He who has it naturally, combined with ability, is a great success in life.
Those with assumed dignity are—well, they are understood and discounted by this.

We've no dignity, natural or assumed, and if its use was attempted by us the public would discount it.
